News from Alberta:
Congratulations to Christine Hughes-one of the first pharmacists in Canada able to prescribe! See article below!

Pharmacists get power of prescriptions

EDMONTON -- A group of 15 pharmacists in Alberta have become the first in Canada given powers to prescribe new medications to patients without needing final authorization from a doctor.

They were part of a pilot project to ensure all future pharmacists wanting additional prescribing powers under Alberta's Pharmacists Act are rigorously evaluated before taking on the new responsibility.

"Pharmacists are quite highly educated, and to just be stuck doing dispensing-type things, it's not really a good use of our training and expertise," said Christine Hughes, who has been a pharmacist since 1994.
Nese Yuksel along with Christine Hughes, two of the first 15 pharmacists across Alberta who have been given prescribing powers. Christine is an HIV specialist, Nese is a women's health specialist (menopause).

The move to give pharmacists prescribing powers was initially met with resistance from doctors. The Alberta Medical Association questioned whether pharmacists had the training and education to handle the extra responsibility.

Hughes has now received approval to prescribe new drugs -- other than narcotics, anabolic steroids and barbiturates, such as morphine and codeine -- to patients.

Her powers go beyond giving prescription refills to people who have run out of birth control pills or asthma inhalers before scheduling a doctor's appointment. More than 90 per cent of Alberta pharmacists can adapt prescriptions or prescribe in an emergency after going through an orientation course.

But Hughes can actually write people brand new prescriptions, change their drug therapies and significantly adjust dosages. For the past 10 years, she has worked with HIV/AIDS patients out of an infectious disease clinic at the University of Alberta Hospital and has a detailed understanding of how anti-retroviral drugs affect patients.

Hughes said patients probably won't even notice the new powers pharmacists have.

"It just legalizes and improves some of the efficiencies of the system," Hughes said.

"I think it is important, that sharing of responsibility. And I think in terms of care for the patient, it will improve care and efficiency and off-load some very routine things that might get hung up on a physician's desk and they can focus in on more complex patients."

The Northern Alberta HIV Program won the Capital Health Reach Award for Team work!

News from Ottawa:

Natalie Dayneka in Ottawa has a visiting pharmacist for one month from Ghana, Africa who is at the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario with the support of a Pharmabridge grant from the International Pharmaceutical Federation (FIP). Nathan tells me that he has 300 pediatric HIV positive patients.

For the newsletter could you please include the following

News from Windsor (Linda R):

I've been working with CMEon HIV to update the pharmacists' section to now include some newer (and hopefully improved) research/sharing capabilities. I will be recording a brief description of the new features for the members benefits and will notify all CHAP members when this is finished. The first expected CHAP member feature presentation will hopefully be Charles LaPortes's TDM talk we were hoping to get at our meeting last April but ran out of time. I'll keep you all posted…
Also, I've been asked by Dr. Rodger MacArthur to co-author a paper on PK and PD of newer ARV's. Alice and Christine Hughes will also join us on this article which will be featured in the journal 'Expert Opinion'. Timeline for completion is January.

I'm still working with the Working group on the final publication of the Canadian Consensus Guidelines for Managing CV Risk in HIV + patients which got started in Montreal in April and is expected to be published in Pulsus, +others. I'll keep the group posted on that paper when out as well. I have volunteered to help create and update a useful clinic tool as a result of the recommendations of this group.

For the benefit of our Ont. members, I'm still planning a CE day with travel and hotel sponsorship from the AIDS Bureau and may be calling on some of them for speaking. It is hoped to have this day before the end of this calendar year.

I'm writing and submitting the AAHIVM Specialist Credentialing Exam by the end of September and will provide feedback to any members interested in the process once I've completed it.( hopefully successfully) It is the first year that they've offered this for "PharmD's, but have accepted Canadians and recognized my non-Pharm D degree, but acknowledged experience in case anyone else is interested in this.

News from Montreal:

Our HIV pharmacy team (Nancy Sheehan, Marie Courchesne, Anick Boulerice, Benoit Lemire and Niamh Higgins) won the Prix de reconnaissance de innovation en pratique clinique PPC (Les Partenaires Pharmaceutiques du Canada), from l'Association des pharmaciens des établissements de santé (APES), 2008 for our TDM program. Nancy also won Prix en pratique spécialisée Jansenn Ortho.
