CHAP Research Updates:

DEscription of Factors Associated with Medication Errors in an HIV Ambulatory Care SeTting: A Pilot Study (DEFEAT Study) (project leader: Niamh Higgins)
The DEFEAT study is a pilot project on medication errors taking place at the Montreal Chest Institute. Recruitment is now complete for DEFEAT (n=150) and only 4 study visits remain. Subsequently, we plan to conduct a multivariate analysis on the risk factors associated with the medication errors discovered during patient interviews. We intend to use the findings of DEFEAT to conduct a larger, inter-institutional study involving CHAP pharmacists at sites across Canada.

The Effect of Aging on the Pharmacokinetics of Nelfinavir and M8 in HIV-1-Infected Individuals (project leader: Nancy Sheehan)
The objective of this multicentre project was to explore the effects of aging on nelfinavir pharmacokinetics. Overall, 10 patients completed study visits; the goal was to recruit 24 patients. However, it became very difficult to recruit patients because there are very few patients taking nelfinavir nowadays.

Nancy presented preliminary data on the 10 patients at the 2009 PK workshop. If Pfizer is willing to share their pharmacokinetic data, there may be a sufficient number of observations for the analysis. Otherwise, Nancy will contact the editors of journals to solicit their interest in publishing preliminary findings as a research short communication.
